

[Type text]

The PMI Conference on Project Management

- A report

The 8th Annual PM Primer Session that was held on 19th October, 2016 at NIMHANS Convention Centre, Bangalore had an abundant amount of knowledge as a take away. The PM Primer program was launched by PMI (Project Management Institute), Bangalore Chapter with the objective of orienting student community towards project management concepts. The program covered various topics in Project Management (including project management context and life cycle stages of any project).

PM Primer also touches upon the basic ten areas from the Project Management Body of Knowledge. The program highlights some of the key general management concepts used in organizing and leading teams, tracking progress, effective communication and critical factors that influence successful project execution.

About 16 student executives from MPBIM got this wonderful opportunity to be part of such a conference which has its name in providing global education for working professionals who aspire to be successful future Managers. The Primer kindled our brains on the technicalities and challenges in the project management subject and also showed us the path of opportunities in the global arena. Not only that, we could also meet and network with student executives from across 30 institutions from Bangalore rural and urban area. More of such conferences and conclaves will help students to learn and groom to be better professionals.

[Type text]

PMI Bangalore India Chapter offers multiple platforms in Project Management skills for Members, Corporates and Community at large. They address needs to Learn, to Qualify and to Advance knowledge, aligned to career advancement of a Project Manager. These platforms help grow knowledge with leveraged experience to become more competent in PM's career. MPBIM's Student Executives Mamatha Pallagatte and Sagar Singh won both 1st and 2nd Prizes in Essay Competition at the PMI Primer Meet on 19th October 2016.